Sen. George to Retire from Senate; Offered NATO Post by Eisenhower

Ray Owens Quits As Head of County Welfare

Ray Owens announced today he had resigned as county superintendent of the Saline County Department of Public Welfare, due to ill health.

Resignation from the position he has held since Aug. 8, 1938 will be effective after his vacation time and sick leave have expired, Mr. Owens said. His last day at the office was Friday, May 4.

During the 18 years Mr. Owens has headed the Saline County Department of Public Welfare it has had a tremendous growth. The department started in small quarters in the basement of the court house with three employees, Mr. Owens, one visitor and one stenographer. In those days the department supervised the Old Age Assistance program.

Now the department includes the superintendent, six stenographers, 12 visitors, three supervisors and a county representative. The offices are in the Rose building and four programs are supervised—Old Age Assistance, Aid to Dependent Children, Blind Assistance and Disability Assistance. The latter is the latest of the assistance programs. The Saline county department operates under the Illinois Department of Public Assistance. Board to Select Superintendent

Mr. Owens revealed he had high blood pressure and stated "You can't do your work when you're sick, so I thought it best to resign."

Mr. and Mrs. Owens were residents of Galatia when he first headed the local welfare department, but moved to Harrisburg during the war years when gasoline was scarce and everyone was encouraged to cut down on their driving. They now live at 31 West South Street.

Mr. Owens stated he didn't know who would be appointed county superintendent of the Saline County Department of Public Welfare, but a three-man advisory board, composed of County Judge Trafton Dennis, William Alfred Smith and Harvey DeVar, the last two representing the County Board of Supervisors, would be furnished with a list of three persons eligible for the position and they would recommend one of the candidates for the appointment.

Eisenhower Wins Indiana Popularity Vote

Lausche Fails to Capture All Delegates in Ohio

By United Press

Five primaries gave President Eisenhower a "corn belt" vote of confidence in Indiana and produced some surprises in other states today.

The President, running against token Republican opposition, rolled to an easy "popularity" contest victory over Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) in Indiana's first presidential primary since 1928 Tuesday.

The other primaries in Florida, Ohio, West Virginia, and New Mexico, did not feature bona fide presidential races. Surprises in Florida, Ohio, and New Mexico, however, were the landslide re-election of Ohio Gov. Frank J. Lausche's failure in capturing all 58 Democratic presidential convention delegates.

Hoosier farmers stayed in the Republican ranks in the first farm belt primary since the President's controversial farm bill veto.

Kefauver, unopposed in the Democratic primary, had hoped to stir up a farm protest vote. But the President rolled up a vote edge of about 80,000 over the Tennesseean, whose strength was primarily concentrated in traditionally Democratic city areas.

Gets 32 First-Round Votes

The primary gave the President 32 first-round Republican convention votes and Kefauver 26. Mr. Eisenhower also picked up 56 Ohio votes, although they are nominally pledged to favorite son Sen. John W. Bricker.

The other primaries at a glance: Florida — Collins became the first governor in Florida's history to succeed himself and the first to win the Democratic nomination, tantamount to election, without a runoff.

He rolled up a heavy margin over vice candidates. The closest was Sumner Lowry, who campaigned on a pledge to block racial segregation while Collins took a more moderate stand. Former Gov. Fuller Warren ran a poor fourth.

Sen. George Smathers won an easy Democratic primary victory and has no GOP opposition.

Ohio — Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill, who has never lost an election, won the Republican nomination for governor and former federal Price Stabilizer Michael V. Disalle got the Democratic nod. Both were smashing victories.

Encounters Hard Fight

Lausche suffered a blow to his prestige when he lost two, and perhaps three, of Ohio's Democratic National Convention delegates. He wanted them to back up his "favorite son" candidacy, even though he says he is not a presidential candidate and is expected to release his delegates to Adlai E. Stevenson.

West Virginia — Rep. Robert Mollohan, running against the powerful Democratic "state teacher" organization and carrying the potent backing of veteran Democratic Sen. Matthew W. Neely, appeared to have won his party's nomination for governor. He led the "state-house" candidate, Milton J. Ferguson, and another contender.

Incumbent Gov. William C. Marland had a slight edge over another Democrat, Atty. Gen. John G. Fox, in their race to fill the unexpired term of the late U. S. Sen. Chapman Revercomb, veteran in the fight for the GOP nomination.

Voting was heavy in West Virginia. Kefauver backers entered a nearly full slate of convention delegates, but a United Press poll showed the 67 delegate candidates were 3 to 1 in favor of Adlai E. Stevenson.

New Mexico — Gov. John F. Simms, a Stevenson backer, pulled to an early lead in his campaign for re-nomination on the Democratic ticket. But he began to lose ground fast to Corporation Commissioner Ingram B. Pickett when returns from outlying areas began coming in.

Chicken Pox Thwarts American Plans To Deport Family of Soviet Diplomat

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Chicken pox thwarted American plans to deport the family of a Soviet United Nations diplomat today for his part in persuading five Russian sailors to return to their homeland.

One of Nikolai F. Turkin's children contracted the disease so the family was granted an extension of its stay in the United States. Turkin already is in Russia.

Aleksandr K. Guryanov, another low-grade U. N. diplomat declared "undesirable" by the State Department, was booked with his wife and daughter to sail cabin class aboard the Queen Mary at 5 p. m.

The State Department ordered Moscow to recall the two for exceeding their diplomatic privileges with "particularly objectionable behavior in the sailors' case."

The strange case started in June, 1954, when the Soviet tanker Tuapse was captured by the Chinese Nationalists off Formosa. Nine of its crew were granted political asylum by the United States. They entered this country last October to work or study in the New York area.

Five of the sailors suddenly decided to return home April 7. The other four stayed.

The Senate internal security subcommittee heard evidence that persistent pressure and possibly violence had been exerted against the five by members of the Soviet U. N. delegation, acting under orders of Ambassador Arkady A. Sovolev.

Cunard Lines said they had a cabin-class reservation for the Guryanovs but nothing for the Turkin's. The U. S. mission to the U. N. disclosed the Turkin's stay was extended by chicken pox.

The Soviet Embassy said nothing as it had throughout the incident. It knew nothing of the Turkin's and it knew nothing of chicken pox.

Two Mothers, Eight Children Killed in Fires

By United Press

Eight children and two mothers died in fires Tuesday night and today.

At Hopkins, Minn., Mrs. Lucille Cottrill, 40, and her daughters, Susan, 8, and Linda, 6, suffocated in a fire which poured smoke through their one-story home for two hours before it was discovered.

Two other children, Sandra, 16, and Dennis, 12, were asleep in the basement and escaped through basement windows.

At Southampton, N. Y., three Negro children burned to death in their two-story frame home early today. The parents survived, but the father was injured in a futile effort to save his children.

The dead youngsters were Philip Robinson, a 12-year-old leukemia victim, Andreoles, 10, and Frances, 4.

At Waterloo, Ont., Tuesday night, Allen Rumig returned to his farm home to become the helpless witness of the death of his 23-year-old wife and three children.

Rumig spotted his plain two-story home burning from a nearby farm. He drove toward the scene, but his car ran out of gasoline on the way.

Hilarious Skit At Kiwanis Ladies' Night Program

Members of the Kiwanis club entertained their wives and guests last night at the Masonic temple with a Mother's Day program.

Rev. William Burroughs, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and member of the club, spoke on "The Home" and its importance to the family.

Preceding the address a skit, "Do You Trust Your Wife?" was presented with the contestants Loy and Esther Barger, Bob and Margaret Rushing and Eugene and Callie Morris. Ronnie Dorge played the part of Edgar Bergen, Ed Brantley was Charley McCarthy, Dick Davenport was Mortimer Snerd and John Schork had the part of Effie Klinker.

Gene and Callie Morris were the winners in the hilarious contest.

Special guests last night were Mabel Lane, daughter of Ross Lane, and Mrs. Betty Franks, daughter of Bob Burnett. Kiwanians presented corsages to their wives and guests.

Gov't Reports Booming Economy In Manufacturing, Construction

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today reported a booming economy on two major fronts.

The Securities and Exchange Commission and Federal Trade Commission reported U. S. manufacturing corporations made more money and paid bigger dividends last year than ever before.

The Commerce and Labor departments issued a joint report stating that spending for new construction in the first four months of this year matched the record rate of 1955.

The Commerce and Labor departments Tuesday reported a total of 63,990,000 persons were employed last month, almost a million more than in March and a new record for April. Unemployment fell 270,000 from March to 2,564,000 in April.

The SEC and FTC said manufacturing profits jumped 34 per cent over 1954, paced by a 43 per cent increase for durable goods producers such as iron and steel

Gov. Stratton To Ask Definite Limit on Speed

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Gov. William G. Stratton said Tuesday night he will ask the next session of the Illinois Legislature for a "definite speed limit" on the state's highways.

The governor told Midwestern motor vehicle administrators that "excessive speed is the major cause of highway accidents and fatalities."

Present speed laws require "reasonable and proper" speed. Stratton unsuccessfully sought a fixed speed limit law at the 1955 General Assembly.

Earlier Tuesday traffic safety officials from eight states joined in a cooperative "get tough" policy on traffic violators in the Midwest.

The tougher enforcement policy was set at a meeting of the Midwestern region of the National Conference of State Safety Coordinators held in conjunction with the conference of Region Three, American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators.

Traffic officials from Iowa, Illinois, Missouri, Indiana, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Kansas and Kentucky endorsed the tougher enforcement policy, proposed by William H. Morris, acting superintendent of Illinois state police, and Robert A. Campbell, Illinois traffic safety coordinator.

The safety officials from the seven other states voted in favor of uniformity with Illinois in traffic arrests and more severe treatment of traffic violators.

Morris said the "stepped up" Illinois law enforcement program has been in effect since the "Black Christmas" of 1955 when hundreds of people were killed on Midwestern highways.

Court Action Is Taken in Gallatin County

Judge Randolph Issues Order to Impound All Ballots

Dale H. Sullivan of Harrisburg today was contesting the results of the 59th district Republican representative race in the April 10 primary.

The state electoral board, which completed the canvass of the district May 4, declared Gordon E. Kerr, Brookport, 19,476 votes, and C. L. McCormick, Vienna, 15,387 12 votes, the nominated candidates, with Sullivan running 161 votes behind McCormick with 15,226 12.

Attorneys for Sullivan yesterday filed in Gallatin county circuit court a complaint contesting the result of the race and Judge Charles Randolph of Carmi issued an order to impound all of the ballots, affidavits, poll books, precinct lists, tally sheets, receipts for ballots, applications for ballots and all other items pertaining to the Republican primary race in all eight counties of the 59th district.

Names All Candidates
The county clerks of Saline, Johnson, Gallatin, Hardin, Hamilton, Pope, Massac and Williamson counties, which comprise the district, today are being notified of the order to impound.

Sullivan's complaint named all six other candidates in the race for representative as defendants. They are Kerr, McCormick, Laura C. Cobb, Thomas J. Throgmorton, John H. L. Parish and George C. Tregoning.

His attorneys explained the filing of the complaint in Gallatin county this way: It could be filed in the circuit court of any county of the district. Since local principals would desire to see it filed outside of Johnson county, where charges are centered, and since the principals there would want to see it filed outside of Saline county, Gallatin county was chosen, because of its closeness, to expedite matters. Summonses in the case are returnable May 12.

Charges in Complaint
The lawyers in the case for Sullivan are Atty. L. M. Hancock, Atty. Ralph W. Chesser and Atty. Joe M. Butler of Harrisburg, Atty. James G. Gullett of Elizabethtown and Atty. William M. Wolff of Murphysboro.

In asking the court to hear the evidence, examine the returns and recount the ballots, and if fraud is found in any precinct, to void the vote of the precinct, Sullivan's complaint carries the following charges and contentions:

It avers that in Simpson precinct, Johnson county, 33 ballots were objected to and the judge refused to count them. These ballots were returned to the county clerk (C. L. McCormick) in a separate bag or envelope and during the canvass the board called in the judges and clerks of the precinct and questioned them, then counted 26 of them which gave McCormick a gain of 78 votes, it is charged.

It avers that in Johnson county many voters illegally voted absentee ballots in person in the office of the county clerk, as the ballots were marked not in private but in public, and in many instances

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Senator Tydings, Once Purg-
ed By McCarthy, Renominated Monday; He Was The First To Combat McCarthy-ism; Hydrogen Tests Will Start Several Years Of Radioactive Fall-Out.

WASHINGTON. — The first real casualty of McCarthyism Monday came up before the people of Maryland and was renominated for senator. He is Millard Tyd-ings, the Democratic senator who headed the committee to investigate McCarthy's original charges of 205 card-carrying Communists in the State Department and who, when he refused to knuckle under to McCarthy, found himself defeated for re-election.

McCarthy called upon his Chicago Tribune friends for campaign funds, collected $10,000 from Texas oil tycoon Clint Murchison and wife, circulated a fake photo of Tydings shaking hands with Earl Browder and managed to knock Tydings out of the Senate.

No less than FDR had tried to defeat him in 1938, but the vogue of McCarthyism was such that the senator from Wisconsin succeeded where the President of the United States had failed.

So the people around the nation watched Maryland to see whether Tydings was voted vin-dication.

The events of the last two years have certainly given vindication.
ROLL CALL OF "COMMUNISTS" Owen Lattimore, the Johns Hopkins professor whom McCarthy smeared and Tydings defended, has now been cleared by the courts.

Val Lorwin, the State Department official whom McCarthy named as a communist and who was indicted for perjury when he denied it, has now been cleared.
The Justice Department appeared in court to state it had no case.

Edward Lamb, the Toledo radio-TV owner, smeared by the FCC as a Communist, has now shown that the witnesses accusing him were phonies. One has been convicted of perjury.

Jacob Burck, the Chicago Sun-Times cartoonist accused by the late Paul Crouch of being a Communist, has been exonerated.
Crouch, the professional witness for the Justice Department who also tried to smear Aubrey Williams, former Youth Administrator, and Clifford Durr, brother-in-law of Justice Hugo Black, was so discredited that the Justice Department dropped him.

Abraham Chasnow, who was dropped by the Navy Department as a security risk, was re-hired by the Navy with an apology.

Mrs. Annie Lee Moss, who was hailed up before McCarthy's committee and charged with being a Communist, has been re-hired by the Army.

Dr. Ralph Bunche, the Negro diplomat who was investigated by the Justice Department for seven months, was cleared.

Not all these cases were attributable directly to McCarthy. But it was his tactics which created such a terrorist atmosphere that in some cases Attorney General Brownell almost outdid him, and which caused Dr. Vannevar Bush, president of the Carnegie Institution, to warn:

"The Eisenhower security system has dropped the morale of scientists so low that our world leadership in atomic research is in danger."

That statement, made two years ago, was all too prophetic of the current fact that Russia appears to be ahead of us in hydrogen research and may be ahead of us in guided missiles.

RADIO POLITICS

There's a good, though unadvertised, reason why Colonel Mc-Cormick's Chicago Tribune radio station WGN is pulling out of the Mutual Broadcasting System. It's to get out of a $300,000 annual contract with Jim Petrillo and the Musicians Union.

If the station gets off the network it can get out of this contract. And thereby hangs a tale.

Original chief reason for the Musicians' contract was that the late Colonel McCormick liked to expound on Saturday nights over his radio station and he needed an array of fiddles, bass viols, etc., to play in the background. The alleged "climax" of the McCormick hour was a rather dull dissertation on military weapons, isolation, and foreign policy which the Colonel read in monotonous voice to his captive audience.

But now that the Colonel has passed on to other battlefields, WGN, which stands for "World's Greatest Newspaper," doesn't need all the orchestration. So the Tribune is dumping the Mutual network to get out of the Petrillo contract.

Meanwhile Thomas F. O'Neill, vice president of General Tire and chief owner of Mutual, is dickering with Station WCFL, which stands for Chicago Federation of Labor and is owned by AFL-CIO.
It'll be a strange combination.

BOMBS AND DRILLS

The current series of H-bomb explosions in the South Pacific will be the most devastating yet.
This was tipped off on the eve of the Eniwetok tests by Connecticut's Congressman James Patterson, a member of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee. He predicted that "the explosion scheduled for about May 1 will surpass in power any nuclear detonation thus far."

Up to now, history's biggest bomb was exploded March 1, 1954. This had the explosive force of 17,000,000 tons of TNT and formed a mushroom cloud over 100 miles in diameter.
It was a larger explosion than our atomic scientists expected, and scattered atomic ash on the nearest observers, including the much-publicized Japanese fishing crew.
Largest hydrogen explosion set off by the Russians has been estimated by our intelligence at 13,000,000 tons of TNT. Meanwhile, tiny particles of radioactive fall-out from both Russian and American hydrogen blasts are still drifting down to earth years afterward. These particles, however, are considered harmless.

The Texas oil boys have sheepishly discovered that the Russians are ahead of them in developing oil drills. The Soviets have designed a turbo drill that works 10 times as fast as conventional drills used by American oil companies. At least one company, Dresser Industries of Texas, has swallowed its pride and ask-

Both drive out engine dirt... NOW!

Car power dwindles when harmful deposits form in combustion chambers. Ashland detergent gasolines attack the binder of these deposits.
Result: harmful engine dirt is driven out—while you drive!

Whether your car is new or old, get the powerful difference when you get an Ashland detergent gasoline. Get increased power, pep, and performance because Ashland detergent gasolines make engines run better than ever before.

Whichever your car requires—Ethyl or regular—buy only Ashland gasolines. Both are detergent.

Drive with a non-detergent gasoline, and you can expect harmful deposit build-up, decreased power, less pep.

Increase pep!
Ashland detergent gasolines go to work fast on these harmful engine deposits, driving 'em out the exhaust pipe while you drive.

"I'm DETERGENT, Too!"

For a truly deep-detergent cleanout, change now to TOPFLITE SUPER H-D MOTOR OIL, detergent-matched with Ashland detergent gasolines for double-detergent cleaning.

Philippines and Japan Sign Pact For Reparations

MANILA (AP)—The Philippines and Japan signed an 800 million dollar "package" reparations treaty here today, paving the way for normal relations for the first time since World War II.

Representatives of the two countries signed an agreement obligating Japan to furnish the Philippines with 550 million dollars worth of goods and services during the next 20 years, plus 250 million dollars in private loans.

The 14-article agreement becomes effective as soon as it has been ratified by the two countries or as soon as the Philippines ratifies the 5-year-old Japanese peace treaty—whichever is later.

Neither nation is completely satisfied with the agreement, but both consider it a reasonable compromise of conflicting viewpoints. For Filipinos, the settlement represents a considerable comedown from their original demand for eight billion dollars—although it seems unlikely they ever really expected to collect that much.

The Japanese consider the 550 million dollar figure too high, but they hope it will result in a new era of good feeling and increased trade with the Philippines.

MOSCOW (AP)—Japanese Agriculture Minister Ichiro Kono was reported geared to discuss the long-stalemate peace treaty between Russia and Japan at his meeting with Premier Nikolai Bulganin today. The session marked the first time a member of the Japanese government has been received at the highest Soviet level.

Rioters Attack U. S. Embassy Building on Cyprus

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Greek rioters attacked a U. S. Embassy building today and burned the British flag in demonstrations against British determination to hang two men convicted of terrorism on the island of Cyprus.

Authorities reported two persons slain and at least 120 rioters and police injured. Three times frenzied groups broke through police lines around the U. S. Information Service structure to pelt it with rubble and smash its windows. Police finally broke out their pistols and opened fire.

The crowd was incensed by Britain's decision to proceed with the hanging—probably Thursday—of two pro-Greek Cypriot extremists. Similar demonstrations broke out in Salonika.

Princess Weds Austrian Prince

LUXEMBOURG (AP)—Blonde, blue-eyed Princess Elizabeth of Luxembourg became the bride today of handsome Forester-Prince Francis-Ferdinand von Hohenberg of Austria.

The wedding took place in a setting of royal pageantry. Representatives from nearly every royal family left on the continent were crowded into the ancient cathedral.

An invasion of nearly 70,000 sightseers from the surrounding Grand Duchy and neighboring Belgium, Germany and France doubled the population and choked the narrow cobbled streets of the old fortress city.

On the imposing royal roster were 27 princesses, 26 princes, 4 dukes, 13 counts and 9 countesses.

The wedding ceremony took place in the 350-year-old Cathedral of Notre Dame. It followed a private civil ceremony performed by Burgomaster Emile Hamilius at the nearby Grand Ducal Palace.

Alfred Vanderbilt, Millionaire Turfman, And Wife Separate

NEW YORK (AP)—Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, 43-year-old millionaire turfman, confirmed today that he and his wife of 10 years, the former Janne Lourdes Murray, have signed an amicable separation agreement.

Through a close business associate, Vanderbilt announced that he and the beautiful Mrs. Vanderbilt, who is listed as one of the 10 best dressed women in the world signed the agreement Jan. 14. They will share the custody of their two children.

The Vanderbilts have no immediate plans for a divorce, according to the associate. Friends said the separation was the result of the couple's divergent interests. Vanderbilt announced Tuesday that he is cutting down on his racing activities in order to give more time to the World Veterans Fund of which he is international president.

Cottonwood Man Dies

Virgil Moore, resident of the Cottonwood community, died at 11:30 last night at the White County nursing home in Carmi.

He is survived by his wife, Maud, one daughter, Mrs. Layton Fulton, a son, Homer, and a brother, Earl of New Douglas, Ill.

The body is at the Smith and Edwards funeral home, and funeral plans are incomplete.

Fire Damages 100-Year-Old Naperville Building

NAPERVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Flames raced through the 100-year-old building housing the weekly Naperville Sun newspaper Tuesday night and for a time threatened a section of the city's business district.

A lit cigar touched off inflammable liquid in the rear of the print shop. The flames caused extensive damage to the two-story building and threatened an adjacent bank and cleaning company. Firemen brought them under control after a two-hour battle.

Marion Firm Low Bidder on Eldorado School Program

Bids on the Eldorado Township high school construction program were opened and read at a public meeting held Tuesday evening.

W. A. Knoop, ETHS principal, stated today the F. E. Holmes and Son company of Marion was low bidder for the general contract. There were eight bids received, it is said.

The Bob Douthitt Plumbing and Heating company of Eldorado was low for the plumbing and heating and Sutton's Electric, also Eldorado, was low bidder for the electrical work.

Five bids were received on the plumbing and heating and four bids on the electrical work.

The program includes a new gymnasium and vocational educational building.

A $540,000 bond issue was approved by voters of the ETHS district last December.

Mr. Knoop stated he expected contracts to be signed within two weeks and construction to start shortly afterward.

The average American eats about 200 pounds of vegetables per year.

Muddy Village Board to Erect School Zone Signs

School zone signs and speed limit signs have been ordered by the Village of Muddy and will be erected as soon as they arrive, it was reported at the monthly meeting of the village board held Monday evening.

The state highway division already has erected speed limit signs along Route 45 at Muddy. It also was reported that all requirements for eligibility to receive motor fuel tax allotments have been complied with and the first month allotment amounted to $43.22.

The village board and the C. I. P. S. are discussing the possibility of street lights.

Darrel Piper of the Southeastern Illinois Electric co-operative was an invited guest at the meeting Monday night.

Other than routine ordinances, one, which pertains to drilling for oil, has been passed. This ordinance regulates but does not prohibit drilling.

Village board meetings are held the first Monday of each month.

Boniface Mills, 39, Former Ridgway Resident, Dies of Injuries

Boniface Mills, 39, Rockford, Ill., former resident of Ridgway, died at 5:30 a. m. Tuesday in the Swedish American hospital in Rockford. Death was due to injuries received when he was struck Sunday by a hit-and-run driver.

The body has been returned to Ridgway and lies in state at the Cox funeral home. Funeral plans are incomplete.

He leaves his wife, Margaret, two daughters, Mary, 6, and Elizabeth, 2, and two sons, Leon, 7, and John, 4; also his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mills of the Elba community in Gallatin county.

Chrysler Lays Off 6,200 Workers

DETROIT (AP)—The Chrysler Corp. Tuesday laid off 6,200 workers, bringing to 37,000 the total number of employees idled by the firm. Two-thirds of those laid off Tuesday work at Chrysler's auto body division and Plymouth assembly plants here. The remainder are employed at Plymouth plants in Evansville, Ind. The layoffs were attributed to production cutbacks caused by falling sales.

Card of Thanks

We take this method of thanking everyone who in any way helped during the last illness and following the death of Joe Gatwis Sr. We do especially thank Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hughes for the use of their car, the week we needed one so much, and the North Willford School for opening its doors for us; the friends who sent the lovely flowers, nurses and doctors at the Harrisburg hospital, Claud Gibbons for his kindness, and goodness to me and my children; to Mr. George Bagwill who proved a friend in need, to the pall bearers. It is at times like this that we do find who true friends really are, to the Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Duke, for their kindness and his consoling words which we shall never forget. May God bless each and every one that visited us while we were in Harrisburg and for every expression of sympathy. We shall be ever grateful. God bless you all is our prayer.

Sadly missed but never to forget, The Family of Joe Gatwis Sr., Mrs. Catherine Gatwis and son, Joseph Jr., and daughter, Eva Gatwis, Munford, Tenn. 266-1 will pay for changing your herd from poor quality feed to top-line Purina Dairy Chows. And only 300 lbs. of extra milk per lactation will pay for Purina, compared with low-cost rations. Thousands of dairymen have upped production per cow as much as 2,000 lbs. of milk in one lactation after changing to the Purina Dairy Program. That leaves an extra 1700 lbs. of milk per cow to sell. We find it's actually cheaper in the long run to feed a top-line ration like Purina.

ONLY 1 EXTRA POUND OF MILK PER DAY

Vending machines are now serving the public in wondrous ways. Chewing gum and candy have long dropped down their little columns at the signal of a penny in the slot. Soft drinks, fruit juices and all combinations of coffee, sugar and cream spill forth in sanitary cups when coins and selectors are juggled.

Some of these mechanical servants make change. Others deliver books, handkerchiefs, sandwiches and various items too numerous to mention.

The automatic restaurant has existed in several American cities for many years. Music and motion pictures were the pioneers in the endeavor to automatically entertain the public. The most recent mechanical vendor is the talking mailbox which answers questions concerning the United States mail.

To Give Sports Current Events Test To SIU Male Students Taking Required P.E.

CARBONDALE, Ill. (U.P.)—Male students who don't know what's going on in the sports world soon may have a tough time making the grade at Southern Illinois university.

SIU reported today that starting in June, it is adding a sports "current events" test to its final exam grade for all male students taking the required physical education courses.

Dr. Edward J. Shea, head of the physical education department, said the decision resulted from a questionnaire on sports given recently to 854 male freshmen and sophomores.

Shea said the test showed that many college students "lack specific knowledge of the main national and international sports events."

"If a knowledge of contemporary affairs in the world about us constitutes an important goal of higher education, then we should recognize it as worthwhile and make it part of the educational program," Shea said.

The test indicates that students know the least about football. The exam covered 11 sports and questions on football were missed the most, SIU reported.

Only 22.5 per cent knew that Red Sanders coached a team that lost one of the 1956 bowl games, and just 49 per cent could answer a question about the winner of the Cotton Bowl game.

The highest percentage of correct answers on the multiple-choice part of the test came on track, baseball and boxing. Students ranked highest on track, baseball and basketball in the true-false section.

Of the 40 questions, Shea said the average freshman answered 16 right while the sophomores averaged 18 correct answers. One of the best showing was made by Don K. Rice, West Frankfort, who got 39 right.

The questions which brought the most correct answers asked the students to pick the name of a non-boxer from a list of well-known fighters, and to tell whether Wes Santee is a star in swimming, golf, tennis, track or skating.

They missed most on questions about the recent investigations of professional boxing, and the winner of the national indoor tennis title.

Spahn Blanks Pirates, 3-0, For 35th Shutout of Career; Cardinals Chase Roberts, 9-1

By United Press

Manager Charley Grimm of the Milwaukee Braves felt 10 years younger today because he's convinced that Warren Spahn is growing old gracefully.

Grimm had plenty of cause for worry over Spahn's 5.40 earned run average in three early appearances this year but the 35-year old southpaw demonstrated Tuesday night that he's still a star pitcher with a three-hitter that gave the Braves a 5-0 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates. The win enabled the Braves to run their winning streak to four games and hold first place.

The shutout was the 35th of Spahn's career—highest among active major league pitchers—and moved him a step closer to a cherished goal. It was the 184th triumph of his career, leaving him 16 shy of becoming the only active pitcher in the NL with 200 victories.

Spahn walked only one batter and struck out 10 as he breezed to his first win of the year behind a six-hit attack that included home runs by Joe Adcock, Del Crandall and Bobby Thomson. The Milwaukee outfield had only one putout as Spahn faced only 31 batters and pitched no-hit ball after the third inning. Bob Friend suffered his second setback.

The St. Louis Cardinals, meanwhile, took over second place when they routed Robin Roberts and beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 9-1. The Cincinnati Redlegs fell to third place when they bowed to the New York Giants, 5-4, and the Brooklyn Dodgers beat the Chicago Cubs 6-0, in other NL games.

The hard-hitting Cardinals chased Roberts in a five-run third inning uprising to score their fifth win in six games behind a four-hitter by Willard Schmidt and Larry Jackson. Rookie Hal Smith and Rip Repulski homered and Stan Musial had a triple and a double for the big blows in St. Louis' 10-hit assault.

Don Liddle's ninth inning relief aid preserved Jim Hearn's second win of the year as the Giants ended the Redlegs' four-game winning streak. Willie Mays had two hits and ran wild on the bases for the Giants, who've been involved in 11 one-run decisions in 18 games. They've won six.

Don Newcombe turned in a three-hitter for his fourth victory, enabling the world champion Dodgers to break a three-game losing skid. Gil Hodges hit a three-run homer and a run-scoring single for the Dodgers, whose last three victories have been scored by Newcombe.

In the American league, the New York Yankees made it seven out of eight over their three key rivals when they shaded the Cleveland Indians, 4-3, in the opener of a three-game series. Mickey Mantle, Elston Howard and Hank Bauer homered and Johnny Kuck's

Tate Named Head Grid Coach at Decatur

DECATUR, Ill. (U.P.)—Jim Tate, former Lincoln football coach, Tuesday night was named head football coach at Decatur High School.

Tate is a former Mattoon High School and Purdue University football star, and was graduated from Purdue in 1952.

He replaces Van Howe, who resigned to take a coaching job at the University of Arizona.

Regulations For Kiwanis Play Revealed

Rules for play in the Kiwanis summer baseball program were announced today by Ronnie Doerge, who announced that there will be five leagues in operation this year.

Leagues will be the Pony, for boys 9-10 years old; the Kitty for boys 11-12; the Three-I for boys 13-14; the American for boys 15-16 and the National for boys 16-20.

Rules and other pertinent information announced by Doerge:

No teams may have more than four players who were nominated to the honorary all-star teams at the end of the 1955 season. This is being done to even up the competition so as to keep one team from being overly strong with outstanding players.

Two games will be played each day on Monday through Friday. Game time: First game 2 p. m., second game 5 p. m. Games will be played at town park and the new VFW Park next to the fairgrounds. Four night games will be played under lights at the VFW park starting at 7:30 p. m. on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday.

All teams will be sponsored by local merchants. The Kiwanis club will obtain sponsors for all teams who do not already have sponsors.

Each player must be on a team roster and have a contract completely filled out and signed by his parent before playing in any game.

All players will be required to wear batting helmets when batting and spiked shoes may only be worn by boys in the American and National leagues.

Each team is asked to obtain an adult manager if possible.

Regarding the ruling that no teams may have more than four players who were listed as 1955 all-stars, he revealed the following players were selected at the end of last year's play:

National league — R. Hasselt, D. Weatherly, Molinarolo, J. Weatherly, D. Price, J. Cummins, D. Wallace, W. Hefner, K. Spurlock, T. Whiteside, C. Mitchell, B. Hatcher, R. Vick, B. Henshaw, S. Cowger, and H. Parks.

American league (ages 15-16) — J. Wathen, J. King, J. Dowdy, G. Aldridge, M. Stone, J. Holden, D. Biggs, Reid, B. Clark, C. Yarbber, E. Price, K. Jones, J. Thompson, Z. Hefner, C. Henshaw, and B. Spurlock.

III league (ages 13-14) — B. Biggs, D. Nelson, L. Furlong, D. Pickford, D. Beggs, B. Feazel, B. Paveionis, R. Maynard, J. B. Henshaw, R. Rauh, J. Stone, T. Stricklin, E. Henshaw, G. Ozeo, K. Profit, T. Syers.

Kitty league (ages 11-12) — Boyett, Shelton, Robinson, Kline, Ramsey, Baldwin, Griffith, Johns, Maszors, Rauh, Karnes, Wilson, Abney, Hegglin, Cushist, McKeever.

Dale Sullivan Files Election Contest

Clerk McCormick assisted the voters in the marking without a proper affidavit of their disability.

It avers that an overwhelming number of absentee ballots were cast in Johnson county, that a great proportion were illegal because the voters were not legal residents.

It avers that many absentee ballots in Johnson county were not notarized according to law and therefore were illegal, but that the illegal ballots were counted for the defendants.

It alleges that in Simpson and Cache precincts, more absentee ballots were delivered to precincts than were recorded on proper lists to be kept in the office of McCormick.

It expresses belief that various voters in Johnson county voted absentee in one precinct and in person on election day in another precinct.

It alleges that in Cache precinct, returns as certified showed 275 Republican ballots were cast and the same returns show that there were 949 1-2 votes cast for Republican representative.

There were also included contentions that throughout the district there were errors, omissions and mistakes made by the judges and clerks in many precincts, and that the plaintiff lost votes as a result. The plaintiff contends that if a proper count is made, he will be the duly nominated legislator.

The two who are nominated on the Republican ticket are the same as elected, as the Democrats nominated one and there are three to be elected in November.

Senate Committee Approves Modified
Soil Bank Measure

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The Senate Agriculture Committee today unanimously approved a modified version of President Eisenhower's $1,200,000,000 soil bank.

The vote was the first taken by the committee in starting work on a new, price-boosting farm bill passed recently by the House.

The committee went along with Mr. Eisenhower as to crops eligible for the soil bank. But it rejected, as the House had, his request for authority to make advance payments to farmers this year in return for promises to take surplus crop acreage out of production next year.

Chairman Allen J. Ellender had predicted the committee's approving vote.

HARRISBURG RESERVISTS VISIT FORT LEONARD WOOD
—Several members of the 347th Replacement Battalion, U. S. Army Reserve Unit with headquarters in Harrisburg, visited Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., recently and were taken on a conducted tour of the Army base. A majority of the reservists are Harrisburg Township High School seniors who have signed up under the new reserve program, that requires only six months active duty at an army base. The remainder of their duty will be with a reserve unit in their home community. The reservists will report for the six months duty at Ft. Leonard Wood shortly after graduating from high school. In top photo the Harrisburg reservists are shown eating dinner in one of the Army mess halls. Below a part of the group are gathered in a gymnasium, talking with one of the base athletic officers.

Bottom row, left to right, Jim Williams, Jay Waite, Teddy Price, Howard James; second row, left to right, Jack Wright, Jerry Armstrong, Wayman Hefner, Jim Lamkin, son of Major Lonnie Lamkin, executive officer of the 347th, who accompanied the group; Jimmie Lambert; third row, left to right, James Gibbons, James Tolbert, James Cox, top row, Robert Patton. Tolbert, member of the local unit, reported for his six months service earlier, but toured the base with the Harrisburg group. Officers of the 347th making the trip were Major Lamkin, Capt. James Quick, personnel officer and Lt. Edward Bauer, assistant supply officer. Jim Lambert, father of young Lambert, also made the trip. The tour of the base included attending Chapel services, visiting training areas and other places of interest. (U. S. Army Photos)

Dr. Joe Bryant's Home Is For the Birds; Ridgway Doctor Started Study When Ill

By MARY T. MUSGRAVE
RIDGWAY, Ill.—"Once I had the good fortune to come down with an illness that kept me in bed for weeks."

Who said that? Of all persons—a doctor! He goes on to explain, "It was not until then, that I found time to appreciate some of the everyday wonders of the world about me."

During those days, he tells us, the tree branches formed a stage, framed by his window. There Nature put on many acts, and birds were the characters. Watching this drama relieved his suffering of the monotonous practice of gazing at the ceiling, and fellow doctors marveled at his rapid recovery.

Dr. Joe Bryant is well now. He has all the energy needed to carry on his village and country practice. He even has a reserve, and this he uses in pursuing his growing hobby of watching the birds. As a cure for human ills, both mental and physical, he's free to recommend it above any therapy that comes corked up in bottles.

"A bird watcher never needs to take sleeping pills" is one of his patent sayings.

Dr. and Mrs. Bryant have a most interesting home at the edge of Ridgway.

"Why don't you cut the trees so we can see your house, Doc?" This was the good-natured gibe of a neighbor one day. But the neighbor knew the answer before he asked it. These trees are a sanctuary for the birds. Yet, in spite of the nesting sites they afford, dozens of bird houses are placed here and there. And, strange enough, in this housing project there is no race discrimination whatever. The common sparrow is as welcome as the bluebird, and rent is free.

Dr. Bryant's bird lectures are becoming increasingly popular. He speaks on the subject to many civic groups these days. "How long may I talk?" is the stock question he asks as he places his picture screen.

He has stacks of slides, showing birds of his native southern Illinois area in color. Moreover, he has tape recordings of the song or mating call of each bird pictured, and these he presents together. The variety is truly amazing. He points out that this region, being a sort of gateway between north and south, is known to harbor a variety of feathered species such as is seldom found elsewhere in the United States.

Nesting Most Interesting

Birds are worthy of study at any season of the year, Dr. Bryant thinks. Certainly they never grow hungry about his place in winter. When snow and ice are over everything, his feeders, like his birdhouses in summer, know no discrimination. None are denied.

Probably this doctor-naturalist would name nesting time as the most interesting season in the bird calendar. Bird's nests reveal wonders of construction that would baffle the most skilled architect.

No one can quite account for the skill that goes into the weaving of an oriole's nest. It swings in air suspended precariously by a few strands of fiber—maybe horsehair—it has a tensile strength able to stand a weight of almost twenty pounds!

No one knows why a hummingbird will work weeks weaving a thumb-size nest of horsehair and roots, sewn together by strands of cobweb, make it impervious to moisture with glued-on flecks of moss—then abandon it when the twin brood is hatched. It would easily serve another year.

Who can say why the cardinal pair will work at nest building only between the hours of 6 and 10 a. m.?

No chemist has ever figured out the formula used by the barn swallow that will make his mud nest cling to the wooden rafters. Nevertheless it clings, and the nest will be there when its tenants return next spring. They will repair, if it needs it, and use it perhaps for several years.

Just why the chickadee prefers to use a second-hand downy woodpecker's nest rather than build one himself is another puzzle. Would he let us call him lazy?

The sight of a snake strikes terror to the hearts of most birds, yet the timid bluebird must have a silvery snake skin to weave into the fiber of her nest, and she'll look till she finds it.

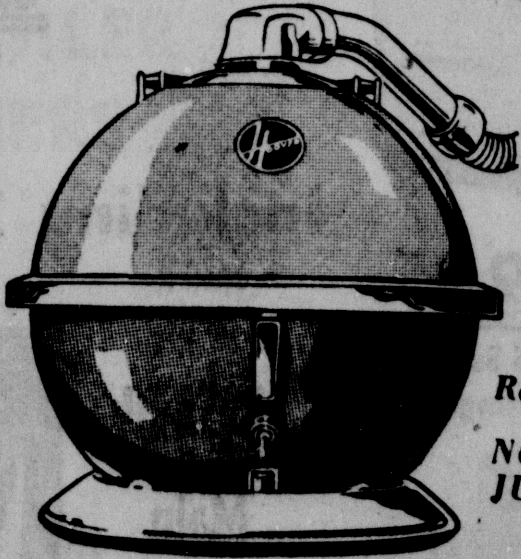

This year was no exception. Dr. Bryant tells us. The dove, traditional harbinger of spring, was first at this business of nest building. But it was a slipshod job, and didn't take long. And—don't tell the neighbors, but that sweet cooing creature is an atrocious housekeeper. She's already sitting on her two white eggs. They'll hatch before long if her carelessly constructed nest of loose sticks will hold them intact until that time. It really looks doubtful now.

Better 'Lights Out' Technique for Kids

CHICAGO (AP)—Parents today do a better job of getting the kids to bed at night than they did in grandpa's day.

At least this is the conclusion of the Englander Sleep Foundation, which found that today's parents generally adopt a few common-sense rules and stick by them.

Parents of yesteryear leaned heavily on the scare technique, the foundation said. There were plenty of bedtime stories with endings such as "and the goblins will get you if you don't watch out."

Authorities now agree that bedtime should be an opportunity to establish "parent-child support."

The foundation said child guidance experts generally feel it's a good idea to give the children some warning that bedtime is approaching.

Roughhouse play near bedtime should be ruled out as too stimulating.

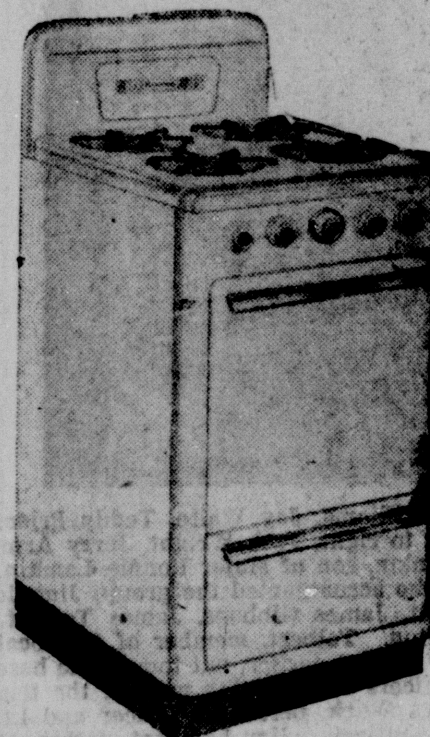

The bedtime edict should be made to stick without rushing the small fry through their routine.

Prosthetic Devices For Very Young

LOS ANGELES — (U) — Children born without arms and hands can be helped most by fitting them with plastic limbs as early as four months after their birth.

Frank Harland, administrator of the Child Prosthetics Project of the University of California here, said new prosthetic devices have been devised to help crippled children grow up with a near normal physical capacity and outlook.

Harland, who described one of the new devices as a tiny, plastic hand, said the "fitting of infants with artificial arms and hands is comparatively new." He said research showed that a child of four to six months can be fitted with the devices with the best effects.

LYNN, Mass. — (U) — A brother and sister have been reunited after a 79-year separation. Mrs. Ida Belle Fontana, now 81, was only two years old when her brother, Hiram Knox, now 96, left their New Hampshire home. She assumed he was dead until she saw his picture in a newspaper.

"If the prosthesis is delayed until a child is four or five years old, he may resent," Harland explained. "He may also have learned compensatory habits which would further complicate his adjustment to a prosthetic device."

PIERRE, S. D. — A stay in the hospital has some advantages. Pierre grade school pupils agreed today in essays on National Hospital Week.

When nurses wind the handle of a hospital bed it "tickles your stomach when it goes up or down," one girl wrote. Another said, "You can sleep all day and some of your friends give you money and flowers."

"When the doctor said I should have my appendix out we went to the hospital about 50 miles an hour," a boy writing on "My First Operation" said. "The siren was going and red lights blinked. I shared a room with another kid who had lots of funny books. All I did was read and get presents. I thought my operation was fun."

Cares for Everybody
According to a sixth grade boy, the hospital "had a pinball machine that I entertained myself with. That's the way the hospital helped me get well when I had pneumonia."

"I like the hospital because my brother broke his arm four times and he still has it," a fourth grade boy wrote. "If there hadn't been a hospital here, I wouldn't have been born. Some of my friends wouldn't have been either. The hospital does not only take care of my relatives, but it cares for everybody."

A second grade girl who had been helped in time of need said: "Once upon a time I drank baby oil. And once I ate moth balls. I like the hospital because they helped me get well."

Not every student was so happy with his hospital experiences, however.

A Bitter Memory

"When I got my tonsils out it was at Thanksgiving and I couldn't eat any turkey," a fourth grader commented bitterly.

A ninth grader who admitted he was frightened when he went to the hospital added, "Man was I glad to get out of there the next morning. They were glad to get rid of me."

Some of the boys said they would like to become doctors for such varied reasons as "Usually a doctor likes children," "If there wasn't a doctor a lot of people would die that should not have died," and "I love the smell of medicine."

One first-grader carefully printed his essay, which read:

"Dear Sisters:
"I was born at St. Mary's hospital but don't remember much about it.
"Love
"John Porter."

NORTHERN ILLINOIS VACATION SPOTS:

White Pines Forest, Starved Rock
Rock Parks Feature Rustic Lodges

NORTHERN ILLINOIS ABOUNDS in forested hills, lofty palisades, excellent fishing streams and lakes, and a variety of beautiful State Parks and historic memorials. The Department of Conservation suggests that weary travelers pause to enjoy the relaxation of a few days' fishing or boating, or just to loaf in the luxury of its lodges and cabins at Starved Rock or White Pines Forest state parks. Nature tours are available at both parks. (Photos and map by Department of Conservation.)

ROCKFORD, Ill. — The Illinois Department of Conservation today invited travelers as well as residents of its own state to pause for relaxation during their vacations this year in northern Illinois.

With two rustic state park lodges as bases of operation, at White Pines Forest near Oregon, Ill., and Starved Rock near LaSalle, the Department offers varied attractions across the northern end of the long Prairie State, which annually appeal to millions of visitors.

History and scenery are combined with some of the nation's finest agricultural lands, crisscrossed with fine modern highways and generously endowed with lakes and streams which offer fishing pleasures as well as other types of recreation.

White Pines Forest

At nearby White Pines Forest, the Department has a rustic lodge, spacious dining room and a group of rustic, though completely modern guest cabins hidden beneath the towering white pines, southern-most survivors of the native forest.

Weekly or overnight accommodations are available, but reservations in advance are usually necessary. For those unable to get accommodations, the region is dotted with modern motels and hotels, some of the latter being modernized restorations of historic hostleries of an early day.

Starved Rock park has a rustic lodge which also contains air-conditioned hotel rooms in addition to its spacious lounge and dining room. There are many guest cabins there, too, available by reservation on a weekly or overnight basis.

Starved Rock, itself, is rich in Illinois history, having been on the itinerary of the first white visitors to the territory, Father Marquette and Louis Joliet, in 1673. There later, came Tonti and LaSalle to set up one of the first French outposts in the new country.

Fine Indian Museums

Legend has it that a band of Indians perished of starvation atop the Rock itself in one of the many Indian wars, but excavations on the towering promontory above the Illinois river have failed to unearth the story of the "starvation."

Nearby Starved Rock is Matthiessen State Park, one of the most rugged and colorful of Illinois scenic attractions, with its upper and lower dells.

Buffalo Rock State Park is on the opposite bank of the Illinois and is being developed into an excellent place for family outings.

West from Starved Rock, via U. S. 6, will be found Black Hawk State Park, near the mouth of Rock river. There is a lodge and dining room at Black Hawk, but housing must be found in nearby Moline or Rock Island. One of the finest Indian museums in the country is located in the park, and a famous Indian Pow Wow is an annual attraction each Labor Day weekend.

North from Rock Island, along Route 50, can be found another scenic wonder of the mid-country, at Mississippi Palisades State Park, just north of Savanna. The Palisades are a mecca for daring hikers and cliff climbers, and the scene of periodic trail rider gatherings.

Home of Gen. Grant

On north of the Palisades is Galena, where the Department has restored an ancient Market House dating back to the halcyon days of home of Gen. U. S. Grant, Civil War general and later President of the United States, also is a popular state memorial.

East from Galena, modern roads lead along ridges from which many miles of rich farmland can be seen spreading out below. Along one of these ridges will be found Apple River Canyon State Park, where a beautiful cold-water fishing stream has carved a path through to the Mississippi river.

Southeast from Apple River, the Department has built a new lake, Le-Aqua-Na, near the town of Replacements for 10th Division in Germany Sought

CHICAGO — Young men who thought they "missed the boat" last year when their friends went to Germany with the U. S. Army's 10th Infantry Division are being given one of life's rarities: a second chance.

Five hundred Regular Army volunteers can now enlist as replacements for the 10th Infantry Division, now serving in Europe.

Department of the Army this week announced that enlistments are now being accepted for assignment to Europe as replacements for the 10th Division, one of the first units to be rotated overseas in the Army's new unit rotation plan which permits men to enlist, be trained and go overseas with the same unit.

In the summer of 1955, the 10th Division and the 1st Division rotated between Europe and Fort Riley, Kansas. Regular Army enlistees who volunteer for this replacement packet will remain with the 10th Division in Europe and return with it when it is rotated to the United States in the summer of 1958.

The Fifth Army, which covers the Midwestern states of the United States, has been assigned a limited quota of 175 enlistments for this replacement group. Only young men with no prior military service are eligible to enlist under this program, Army officials said.

Slated to terminate May 12, this program offers young men the opportunity to join their friends who enlisted for the 10th Division a year ago and who are now enjoying the benefits of service and travel in Europe.

Fifth Army enlistees will proceed to Fort Ord, Calif., for eight weeks of basic training, after which they will sail for Europe in the latter part of the summer.

Present!

BOSTON — Rep. William W. Jeness (R-Quincy) hasn't missed one of the 2,000 roll call votes taken in the Massachusetts House of Representatives during the past 12 years.

Lena. And, further east along the winding Rock river below Rockford, is Lowden State Park with its famous Lorado Taft statue of the American Indian which by common terminology has become known as "Black Hawk" statue. The replica of the great Indian leader rises majestically above the trees from a bluff overlooking the river at Oregon.

Reservations for White Pines should be addressed Route 1, Mt. Morris, Ill., while those for Starved Rock should be sent to the park lodge at Utica, Ill.

Lots of Things Turn Up in Wash

Household Pets
Get in Clothes
Bags; Once a Snake

By ALFRED LEECH
United Press Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO — Ever send your cat to the laundry? Many people have.

All sorts of household pets get mixed up with the family wash. Cats most frequently.

But members of the Chicago Laundry Assn. report having received at one time or another dogs, squirrels and on one memorable occasion a garden snake.

No one can be sure just how pets and assorted household items find their way into the laundry bag with such frequency.

One laundry reported receiving a huge black teddy bear, and another a football helmet.

A Loud Thump

This was mild compared with the experience of the Pilgrim Laundry, where a live hand grenade showed up in a laundry bundle. It was rendered harmless by an employee who had served in the infantry.

At the Edgewater Laundry, a woman was sorting the contents of a bundle when a silver fox fur fell out. Believing it alive, the woman fainted.

But more often it's the customer who passes out. One housewife had sent some valuable jewelry in the wash. It was discovered at the plant, and the foreman telephoned the woman with the glad tidings.

The only response he got was a loud thump.

Money Was Washed

Money turns up frequently in the wash. A tavern used to "bank" its receipts temporarily by wrapping them in an old sheet. A new employee made the mistake of sending the sheet to the laundry, with more than $500 in assets.

One laundry found a small cloth sack pinned inside a piece of lingerie. It contained $140. Garment, sack and currency had gone through the washing and ironing process undamaged.

The bills, it seems, were protected by the sack.

But at the French Hand Laundry a number of bills almost dissolved going through the wash undetected. They came out unrecognizable.

Other laundries have run across slippers, shoes, pens, toys, hot water bottles, false teeth and medical instruments, including a stethoscope.

VA Hospitalization
Limited for Vets With Peacetime Service

Veterans with service only during peacetime are not entitled to Veterans Administration hospitalization without service-connected disabilities, Robert D. Beer, VA's regional manager for Illinois, announced in answer to inquiries.

The only conditions under which peacetime veterans may be admitted to VA hospitals, Mr. Beer said, are:

1. If they were discharged under other than dishonorable conditions for a disability incurred in line of duty; or,

2. If they are receiving VA compensation for a service-connected or service-aggravated disability.

Mr. Beer said peacetime service for the purposes of hospitalization is any period of active service that occurs before or after a war and does not extend into a war period, as defined by Congress.

For example, Mr. Beer said, all persons who entered service for the first time on or after February 1, 1955, are peacetime veterans for the purposes of VA hospitalization because the Korean conflict officially was ended the day before, January 31, 1955.

Another period of peacetime service for the purposes of VA hospitalization is between December 31, 1946, when World War II was declared ended for all except a few, and June 27, 1950, when the Korean conflict started.

MIKE remained silent. "You are, no doubt, in the market for a fast-moving boat for Egypt. Perhaps I could be of some assistance."

"I am a Greek citizen. I do not know what you are talking about."

"My dear fellow, I've been a correspondent in this country for 12 years. I know a Greek when I see one."

Mike looked around for a means of escape. There was none. The place swarmed with Germans.

"What's your game?" Mike snapped.

"Game? My dear fellow, I am Julius Chesney, foreign correspondent for the New York Star Bulletin. Have you ever read my reports? They are carried in the London Times."

"I'm a New Zealander."

"Good. I like New Zealanders, stout fellows." He snatched his lips into his mouth to locate the pit. "Just say it is a little avocation of mine. I take pleasure in helping you boys."

"I'm listening. I have no choice."

"Suppose I told you I was in contact with the captain of an unusually fast boat who knew the mine fields and the patrol schedules and the way to North Africa."

"Suppose you did."

"Is it worth — er — say three million?"

"I don't have that kind of money."

"It just so happens I also know of a lovely Greek family who would be most happy to underwrite your passage."

"Look, Chesney, I've heard about your little racket. You produce me to some Greek family, collect your money for my passage and the boat never shows up. Then you collect another fat reward for turning me over to the Gestapo."

"My dear fellow," Chesney held up his fat hand in protest. "By all appearances, you've had some dealings with — er — unsavory characters."

"You don't look like the keeper of the privy seal to me."

He contorted his flash face into what may have been mistaken for a smile. "I like you. What is your name?"

"Smith—Joe Smith."

"Come, come."

"Linden—Jay Linden."

MIKE leaned over the table. "Look, Mr. Chesney, I wouldn't trust you any further than I could throw a bull by the horns. Now be a good fellow and let me go."

"Sit still, Linden, sit still," he wheezed. Chesney sipped his drink and drummed his fat fingers on the table slowly. "Perhaps if I presented my proposition in a more — er — open light, you'd like to..."

"All right—shoot."

"You came here to contact Nico. Nico or the underground can't help you. Heilser and his Greek friend, Zervos, know every move they are making. You have heard of Herr Heilser, haven't you?"

"I've heard his name mentioned."

Mike had to admit to himself that Chesney was certainly well informed.

"Man to man, plain and simple. My hobby is collecting drachmas. I like drachmas—you represent a lot of them to me."

"How do I know you won't doublecross me?" Mike said.

"You don't know, except for my honest face."

"What's your deal?"

"I see you are a man of sound judgment, Linden. Now meet me at the Piccadilly Cafe off Concord Square this Thursday at noon. Mr. Choleva, your benefactor, will want to meet you. He has already sponsored four escapees. All of them are safe in Egypt, I may add."

"Do you know what's going to happen if you cross me, Chesney?"

"No—tell me."

"I'll kill you."

Chesney sighed. "My dear fellow. That was quite hammy and entirely uncalculated. Now, see those two gentlemen across the street?"

Mike looked over Chesney's shoulder. A pair of civilians in German-cut clothes leaned against a building feigning conversation with each other.

"Those two chaps are Gestapo. They hang about the Square just hoping British boys like you will drop in. It appears that you've been spotted. Now, Mr. Linden, if your brain is as large as your mouth you should have no trouble shaking them. They are quite stupid. I'll see you on Thursday, Piccadilly Cafe."

Mike's heart skipped a beat as Julius Chesney arose and waddled away.

THE two Gestapo men across the street watched. He got to his feet, rubber-legged, and started to cross the square. The two men began to follow some distance behind him. Mike quickened his pace and fought off an impulse to break into a run.

He turned the corner and passed a row of shops. The two Gestapo men sped around the corner stopped abruptly when they saw Mike.

Mike looked about frantically. A tram was coming to a stop at the intersection of the block. He quickly crossed the street. The tram moved past the intersection, picked up speed and bore down toward the middle of the block where Mike stood.

Mike leaped from the curb onto the tram, almost tearing his arm from its socket. He stumbled onto the rear platform as the tram rolled full speed past the pursuers.

German Cops Take Steps to Cut Traffic Toll

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — The traffic toll in Europe is appalling.

But my faithful informant at Army headquarters there says officials in Germany, at last, are doing a little something about it. Two things, in fact.

First, the cops in Frankfurt have decreed that it is agin' the law for girls to ride "side-saddle" on motorcycles or motorbikes.

The reason given in the official directive is that if a lady rides across the tie-bar she upsets the balance. My friend reports another hazard. If the wind is in the wrong direction, the lady's skirts are apt to wind up around her neck—distracting men drivers coming from the other direction.

Push Luck to Limit
The second move to pare the traffic toll is adoption of the American custom of promoting a safe driving week.

My friend, an Army major, looks on all of this with a certain degree of misgiving.

"Personal safety," he reports from long experience, "means nothing to the European. If he is legally right, he will push his luck to the limit. More often than not beyond the limit."

The major says without fear of being sued for libel that bicyclists mostly are out of their heads. Mostly, what they do is legal, but dangerous.

"Motorcyclists are just as bad," he told me. "Statistics show that one in every 10 European motorcyclists is dead like a dodo before he ever gets his bike paid for."

Bikes Have Right of Way
The fellow or a gal on a pumping kind of bike has the right of way at all times.

"If you are running along at an easy 50 miles an hour and there is a bike in front of you, all the biker has to do to turn is to give you a hand signal," the officer said. "If he's 20 feet ahead, you're lucky if you don't hit him — because you never know whether he means he's running off to the right or left."
